The pieces were all there. Upon entering high school, we, the members of the class of 1983, found a jigsaw puzzle scattered before us. We sensed that the following four years were to be spent turning over the pieces through discovery and experience, and putting the puzzle together consciously or unconsciously, by trial and error. Some of us were a little hesitant, assembling the edge pieces first, others jumped right into the heart of the picture. No matter how we chose to put our personal puzzles together, it was a long process, easy for some, difficult for others. By Senior year we noticed that our jigsaw was taking shape, and our efforts were worthwhile.

We have acquired a collection of memorable experiences that comprise the pieces of our own puzzle, one to be unequaled by any future time—The M.H.S. Class of 1983. In addition to the classes, teachers, tests, and homework, our accomplishments, failures, activities, and memories constitute some major pieces of the puzzle. We've witnessed joy and tragedy. Our lives have been touched by many, even if only for a brief time, but lasting impressions have been formed, thus becoming pieces of our puzzle. We've formed individual personalities as a result of personal experiences—yet more pieces. We've widened our scopes through social activity in and away from school, again in a way that is unique to our particular puzzle—more pieces.

Our one-of-a-kind jigsaw puzzle is cut from countless opportunities and assembled through the interlocking of similar experiences and the bonding of people in various relationships: classes, sports, clubs, common interests . . . and friendships. The puzzle is large. The puzzle is more involved than we'd ever imagined, and more intricate than we'll ever realize.

Class Song

IN MY LIFE
by Lennon & McCartney

There are places I remember all my life,
Though some have changed,
Some forever, not for better
Some have gone and some remain

All these places had their moments
With lovers and friends I still can recall.
Some are dead and some are living.
In my life I've loved them all.

THE FINAL WORD

Eva Lund

It seems so long but yet so short at that,
the good, the bad and the happy
yet sad we had.
Those days we spent just listening and not hearing,
the days we worked and pushed the lead,
yet not really caring.
When we passed what we studied,
we failed at not failing to think and know that we could succeed when we got to the last test.
Now we must move on to our ambitions, our goals that will last a lifetime; now we've got our education.
We won't live by corruption but by reason.
Let's be real and let everyone know-that we're finally feeling what we should feel.
The power of a background of experience, and learning to deal with a low fence wire, where we once had to crawl under and then you and I walk those last steps to a roll of thunder-getting a paper to show that we pushed to get where we ought to be.
I hope your feeling as good as me or at least that you will be.

We've Got Tonight

Some Enchanted Evening?

Finally, after a long wait, the time came . . . the event . . . our Junior prom. It was May 21st when we all arrived at the Holden Hills Club a bit nervous. The club itself was a little disappointing. We found, when we arrived, that a second prom was booked in another room. This left us with only one room, which had a floor too small for all of us to dance comfortably on. Another disappointment was the dinner. Although it was served well, the quality of the food was not what we expected it to be.

The highlight of the evening was the choosing of the queen and her court. Karen Gosselin was chosen queen and her court consisted of Cathy Lange, Chris Przygoda, Julie Graves and Kris Bourdeau. They all looked great but the way they were chosen left something to be desired. All of the junior girls and their dates were asked to go out on the dance floor. As our band, "Joshua Tree," played our prom song "We've got tonight" by Bob Seger, the waitresses eliminated couples from the floor until there were only five couples left dancing. These remaining girls were the queen and her court. This way the junior boys who were not with junior girls didn't get to dance to our prom song, which was played just that once. Also, some of the junior girls were eliminated before the song was over. It was a new way of choosing which didn't meet with everyone's approval.

Although our prom was not exactly what we expected, it was the first event in which we all were together. This brought us closer and helped us to realize what it meant to be the class of '83.

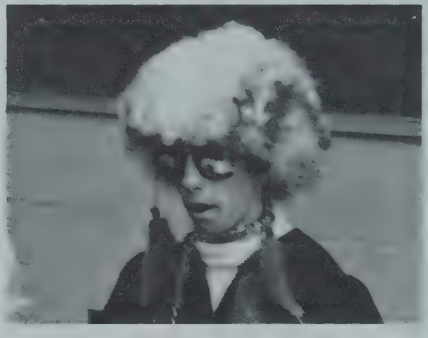
Class Spirits Haunt Halls

Each year the members of the senior class dress up in just about every imaginable costume and haunt the dark and gloomy halls of Millbury High School.

In order to raise funds for the senior class, the seniors terrorized underclassmen and faculty, and collected small donations from everyone.

This year the costumes were great! The seniors had everything from witches and goblins to ballerinas, far-out rock stars, boys as girls, girls as boys, seven foot men, and the fruit of the loom guys too!

The seniors all had a great time acting wild'n crazy for that one day when Millbury High School was overtaken by the spirits of the class of 1983.



Senior Semi-Formal

As past tradition holds, this year's Senior Semi-Formal was held in the High School gymnasium on April 9, 1983, from 7:30 p.m. to midnight. Members of the senior class worked hard making preparations for the evening. A festive atmosphere was created by decorating the gym with colorful streamers, favors, and balloons. The tables were lined with pastel-colored tablecloths and upon each table was a bouquet of carnations in the matching shade. Volunteers from the senior class also prepared a delicious buffet consisting of both hot and cold main dishes, salads, desserts, and punch.

Senior Semi-Formal

Music for the evening was provided by the four-member band, "Good Life." Among the favorite songs played were "We've Got Tonight," "Who's Cryin' Now", and "Just You and I."

It was an enjoyable evening and the members of the senior class in attendance wish to extend their thanks to Mr. Carmody, Mr. Georges Desrosiers, Mrs. Dupont, and Mrs. Stepien who donated their time as chaperones for the evening.

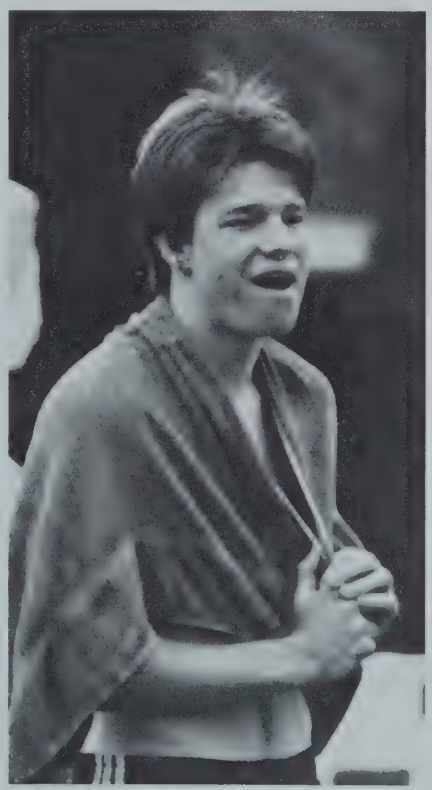
19. Gossiping . . .
20. Leaving, AT Last!!!



An EXPLOSION of fun

The Senior Supper was held June 1, 1983, in the Hogan Campus Center at Holy Cross College. The attendance of members from the class was very good, and all enjoyed "rockin" to the sounds of the featured band, Chimera, who displayed great talent by performing a number of songs from the 60's era.

After eating our fill from the various foods at the buffet table, the class gifts and poems were distributed by Barbara Boliver. The affair ended at midnight and everyone was sad to leave one of the more enjoyable organized events.

Varsity Football "Unified Team Effort"

According to David Lavallee and Paul Najemy, co-captains of the Millbury High football team, David Prouty was the most difficult opponent faced this year. Both Lavallee and Najemy agreed that Prouty was "the toughest hitting team" because they demonstrated a "unified team effort."

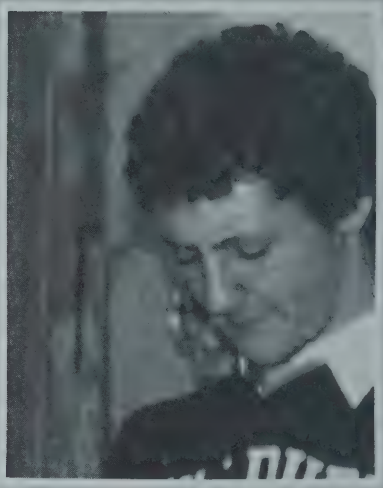
Although Millbury's record was only 3-7, this was primarily due to a decrease in team participants. As a result of the low turn-out, Lavallee said, "the lack of depth combined with the fact that many of the players had to play the entire game, put the Millbury team at a disadvantage from the start of the season."

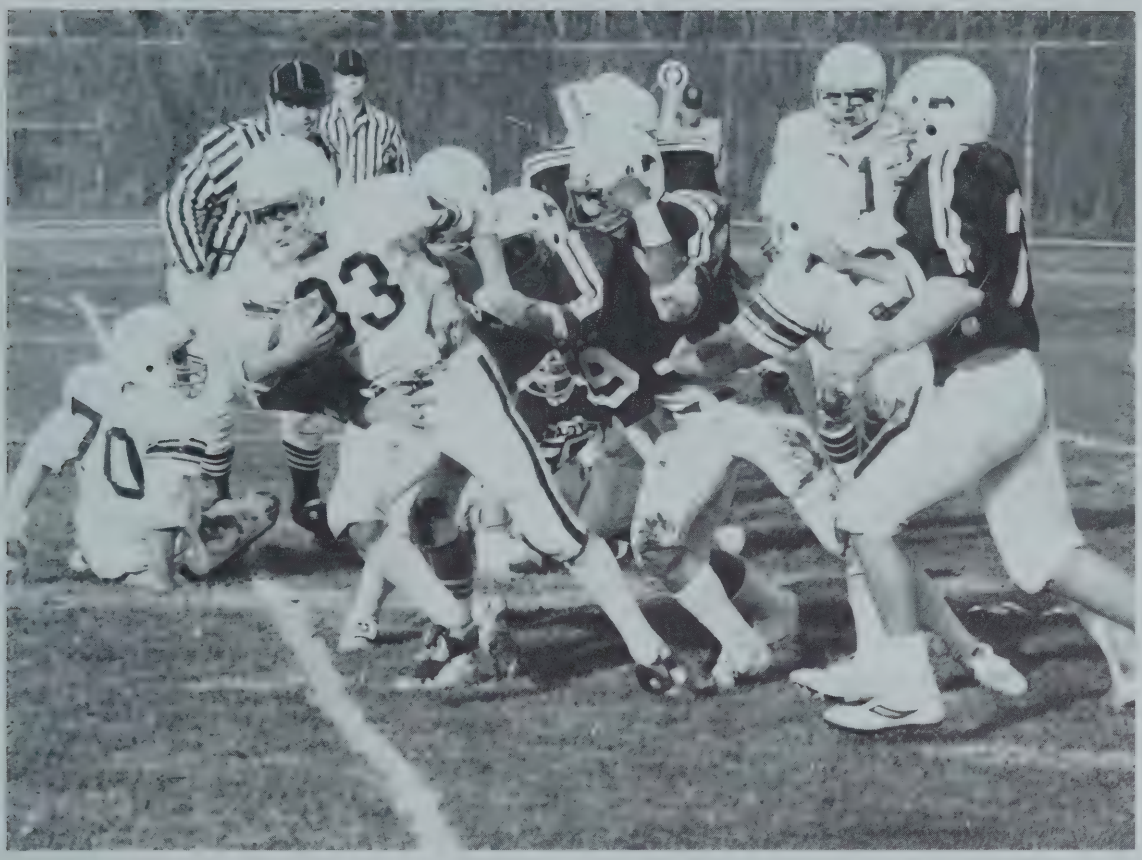
As a result of losing the first few games, Najemy felt, "the attitude of the players dropped a certain degree as far as the hope for a successful season was concerned, but the senior players helped to maintain a hopeful outlook." However, by the conclusion of the season, both Lavallee and Najemy agreed that the team "had never reached its fullest potential."

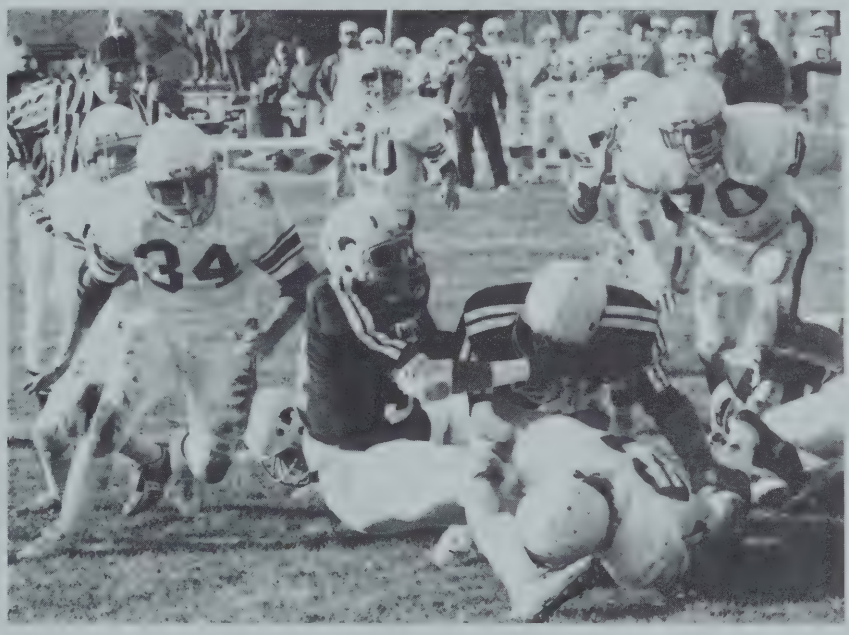
Although everyone put a great deal of effort into the team, Lavallee and Najemy believe senior offensive and defensive tackle, Mike Coons to be the most dedicated player because he added to the team spirit and morale.

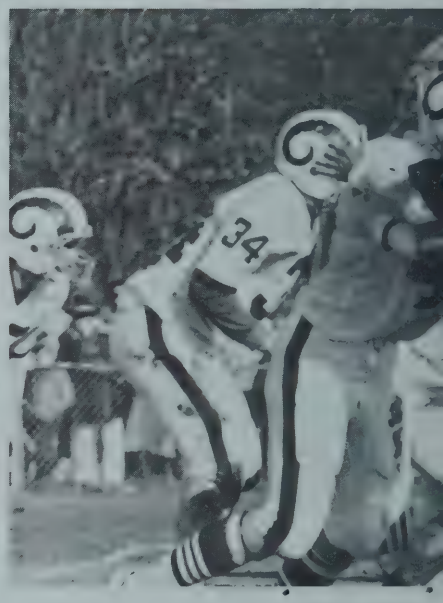
In order to improve on this year's team, there will have to be "more depth" next year according to Lavallee. Najemy suggested that "the special teams (kick-off-receiving and punt-receiving) be changed to utilize Millbury's abilities more effectively." Both agreed that "support from the town and school would add to team spirit and morale."

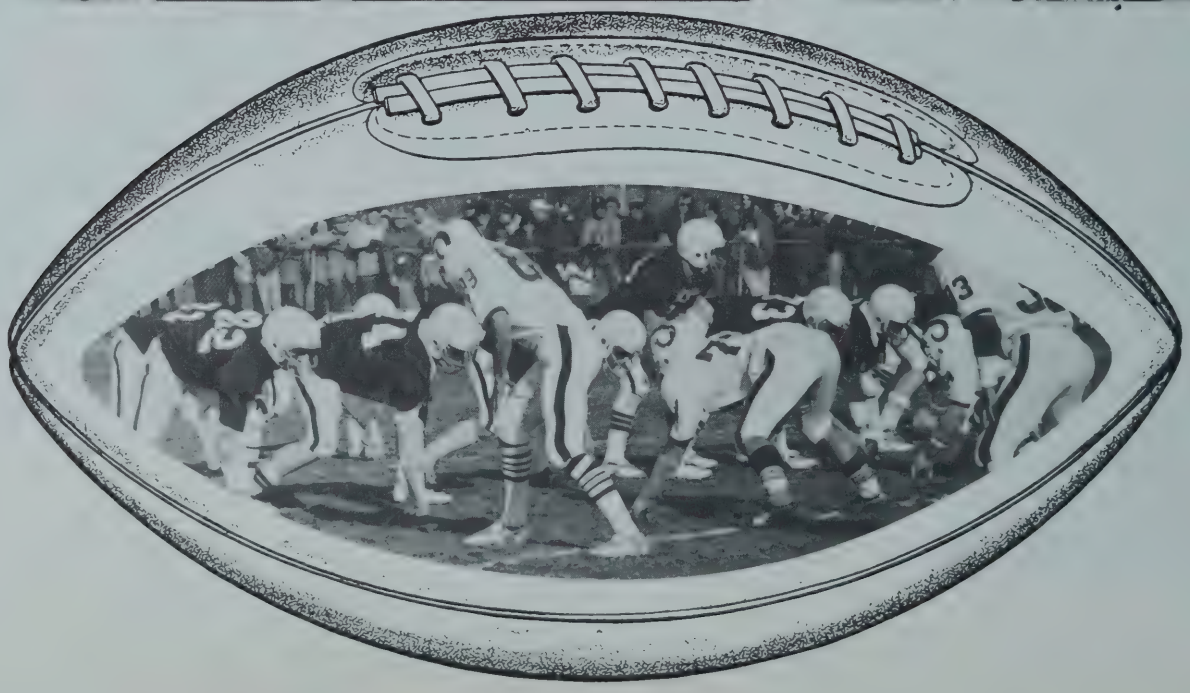
Lavallee feels the most exciting moments of the season occurred during the Leicester game and the first half of the game against David Prouty. Najemy attributed this to the fact that both teams were ranked high in the league standings and each game was close and highly competitive.











A Millbury Tradition

On November 25, 1938, a tradition was started in Millbury. This was the date that the first annual Thanksgiving Day Football game between the Woolies and their rivals from Northbridge was played. Since then, every Thanksgiving morning, members of both towns look forward to the traditional competition. The teams, the cheerleaders, and the bands all put a great amount of effort into the preparation for the big game.

Everyone looks forward to being together with family and friends before Thanksgiving dinner. Alumni from M.H.S. reunite and relive high school memories. Though the Rams were again the favored team this year, Millbury put up quite a fight. The Woolies drove right down the field due primarily to the efforts of the offensive line. Unfortunately, they were stopped by a fumble at the 5 yard line. Millbury played a strong first half. However, the lack of bench strength enabled Northbridge to wear the Woolies down. The final score was 21-0.

The class of 1983 wishes the best of luck to next years players and looks forward to coming home so we can be a "team" again.

Rebuilding Year Brings Hope For Next

Cindy Turner, a four year veteran of the Millbury Field Hockey team, recapped the season.

"The overall year was disappointing" said Cindy. "We only won two games." However, the team did tie a few. Cindy recalled the toughest team for the Millbury players as being Shepherd Hill. "They gave the team a real challenge." The Shepherd Hill players went to a field hockey camp and were "exceptionally good with their sticks." Team co-ordination was a big plus for Shepherd Hill. "They have good team co-ordination which our team lacked, especially between offense and defense." The chance of the team doing well next year depends on this team co-ordination and "togetherness."

Even though Cindy's best year was her sophomore year, she did play well this past season. Jo-Ann Dana, a junior, did exceptionally well this year. "She was consistent and dedicated . . . When the ball went to Dana you didn't have to worry. Bonnie Brady (also a senior, and a four year veteran of the team) didn't have as good a season this year as in the past," although Bonnie did score the first of three goals for the season.

"We Never Got Any Breaks"

"We didn't win any titles, but we had a good time anyway." According to senior soccer defenseman Ken Roberts, the soccer season can be recapped in a few words. "We never got any breaks. That's how the season went, unluckily." Ken has a good point according to the soccer team's final record of 5 wins, 7 ties and 7 losses.

As for Ken himself, he considers his personal performance "consistent." When asked what the most thrilling moment of his varsity career was, Ken replied, "That moment was when I scored the only goal against South High School at Windle Field on October 18, 1981." He also happened to have scored that goal against his cousin. Ken definitely enjoyed playing for the team this year. He considered them "a good team to be a part of."

According to Ken, the most dedicated player on the team this year was junior defenseman Scott Hachey. This was mainly because Scott never missed a practice without a good reason. He gave 100% and he never "mouthed off" to anyone. Ken, however, felt that he could not single out one player who contributed the most to the team. The closest he could narrow it down to was "all the seniors." These include offensive players Chuck Burke, Bob Reney, John Fitzpatrick and John Prunier. Defensive seniors include Chris Altemus, Jim Brunelle, Jeff Pappas and Ken himself.

The toughest team the soccer team faced was, according to Ken, David Prouty because they were just an "all around better" team. The overall team for Millbury this year was really well rounded. They had but one problem: they had to work on their offense. "We just didn't score enough," was Ken's response as to in what area the team needed improvement.

Cross Country - "Demanding, Yet Rewarding"

"Demanding, yet rewarding," was Irene Dunn's words to recap the 1982-1983 girls' cross country season. After winning the league with an overall record of 15 wins and 1 loss, the girls' cross country team captured first place in the League meet in Uxbridge under the coaching of Bob Nicoletti.

Because the girls were first in their league, it was difficult to determine which team was toughest, although West Boylston presented Millbury with an unexpected challenge. Regardless of the fact that Julie Graves was absent from the meet, Irene remarked that, "the depth of West Boylston took Millbury by surprise. Although there is not one truly outstanding runner on the West Boylston team, they tend to finish in a pack."

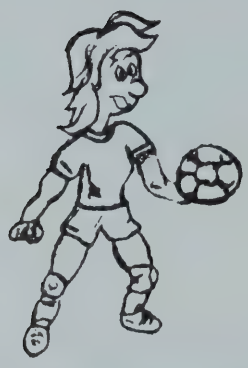
When asked what future aspirations were in store for the girls' cross country team Irene replied, "even though Millbury will be losing five of their top runners, (Lynda McInerny, Julie Graves, Kim Ethier, Marsha Bubon and Irene herself) the team should do well." Improvements by underclassmen Melissa Bubon and Heather Christman towards the end of the season shows great promise in developing talent for next year, which will hopefully be a more successful season.

Running For Enjoyment And Satisfaction

"I enjoyed running cross country for Millbury this year," was how Lee Taft, a senior at Millbury summarized the season. Lee has been running cross country now for four years and has earned a reputation as being a well disciplined and a very dedicated athlete. He has also run Winter Track and Spring Track for Millbury. Among the toughest opponents Lee and the team faced this year was West Boylston simply because of the "overall team effort," which Lee hopes Millbury will gain in the near future.

Lee spoke very candidly about the season and also about himself, and what the team meant to him personally over the past four years at Millbury. It was basically a place "where I could enjoy myself and really feel good about what I am doing." By interviewing Lee and watching him for the four years he was at Millbury, one seems to realize that he has many fine qualities as an individual. He is very dedicated in what he does. You can always count on Lee being there, willing to give 100% all the time. Another quality would be that he does not give the coaches a lot of trouble on or off the playing field.

Lee talked about Mr. Nicoletti, the cross country coach, as being a real friend, "someone that will make you work, and show you how to be a good person." He spoke of the kids on the team as being "close buddies." He also stated, "that sometimes they make me a little angry, but I know they only want me to do better." Even though Millbury did not win the league title this year, nor make a serious bid for the crown (with a record of 8 and 7), Lee gained much more than just friends. He earned respect from his teammates and coaches. Personally, Lee is a true friend and a fantastic individual. He deserves all the credit he can get and believe it, it was well earned.



Big Win Boosts Confidence

According to senior Melanie Tella, Millbury High School's 1983 Volleyball team had "their most successful season ever." She attributed this to the fact that "most of the juniors and seniors had been working together for three years."

Melanie felt that Clinton was the teams toughest opponent this year. She said that in previous years, "Clinton had walked all over Millbury, as had most other teams. Clinton thought that this year was going to be the same way so Millbury had something to prove." Millbury went into the game, beat Clinton, and in the process "psyched up the entire team for games to come."

Melanie felt that the major downfall of the team was "how easily each member lost confidence in each other when they began to lose. When things started going wrong for Millbury out on the court, players would start blaming each other instead of concentrating on winning."

According to Melanie, "Cathy Devinie was one player who personified the word spirit. She never gave up. When she wasn't out on the court drilling the ball at opposing players, she was on the bench constantly rooting her team on." Melanie thought Cathy always played tough and had the most team spirit.

The Woolies finished the year with a record of 5-4 and "a great chance to come back and do even better next year." The returning seniors will be Dianne Moore, Cathy Devine, and Sue Rozelle. Also Coach Dunham who did a super job in this, his second year, will be returning for a third season next year in which the Woolies hope to be more successful than ever.

"It Was Fun . . . And We Won"

The Millbury High School 1982-83 basketball team was one of the most successful in Millbury history. This year, with the support from virtually the entire town of Millbury, the basketball team was not only co-winner of the SWCL Championship, but winner of the Clark Tournament as well.

According to Senior Doug Hanson, who played a key role for the team this year, winning the Clark Tournament was the most thrilling moment of the season. When asked how he felt when they won, he replied with a smile, "GREAT."

Doug felt that Millbury's toughest opponent this year was Leicester. He said that this team was very quick and when both teams had all of their players, the two teams were equally matched in both speed and ability.

Doug felt that every team member contributed as much as they possibly could which was an ingredient for the team's success. Another factor for success, as cited by Doug was "everyone contributing and not relying on one man." There was a general feeling of camaraderie that existed between these players. They all became quick friends and therefore worked together very well.

Doug enjoyed playing for the basketball this year, "it was fun . . . and we won." Doug also feels that the chances of this team doing well next year are very good, mainly because junior Brian Blanchard and freshman Steen Swenson will be returning. Doug is confident that the team will do as well as this year's team, but this year's team left pretty big footsteps for next year's team to follow. The boys of the team were awarded jackets for their achievements.

The Clark Tournament trophy is sitting on the shelf in the trophy case as a permanent reminder to future basketball teams of the great teamwork and ability of the 1982-83 basketball team.

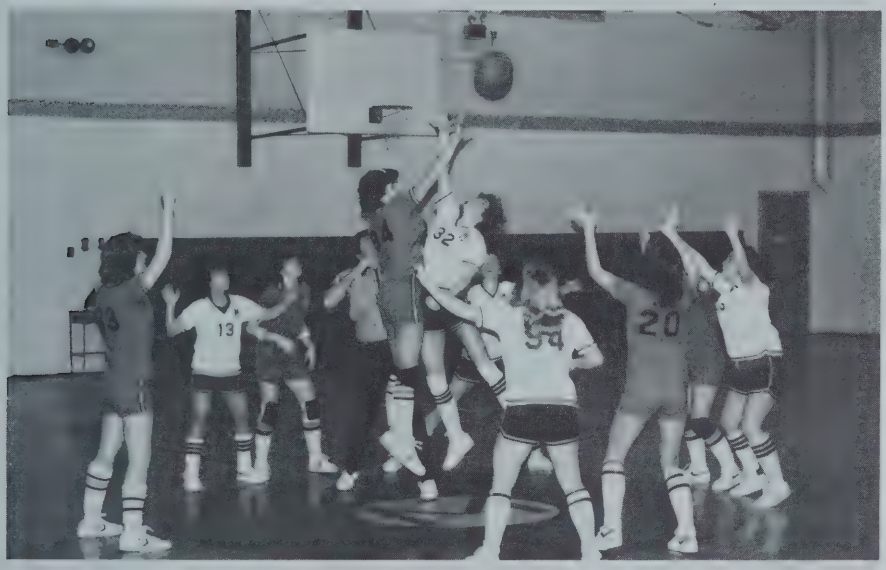
A Season Of Adjustments And Learning

According to Lynda McInerney, a member of the Girls' Varsity Basketball team, "the season was one of improvement." The previous season was not successful when one considers the girls won only one game. The 1982-1983 season resulted in a 10-10 record. "This past season was one of adjustments and learning each others' abilities," Lynda said. Also, this was only Coach Nicoletti's second year coaching the girls.

When asked which team presented the greatest challenge to the Millbury team, Lynda replied Leicester. Lynda attributes this to the fact that "the Gallagher twins and their teammates play a very physical game." Although Leicester provided Millbury with the greatest challenge, it was the Shepherd Hill team which supplied Millbury with the most thrilling moment of the season. "The game was tied with only three seconds left to play and Millbury had possession of the ball. Kim Ethier shot the ball up and got the winning basket," Lynda recalled. Because it was early in the season, Lynda believed this "upped the morale of the team."

The most dedicated players of the team according to Lynda included seniors Kim Ethier and Julie Graves, juniors Jo-Ann Dana and Cheryl Baroni, and sophomore Darlene Breault. Lynda feels that the team improved tremendously. She also feels that there is room for more improvements. "The offensive players need to play more aggressive defense and many of the players must overcome their intimidations when it comes to shooting."

When asked if Lynda felt the team would do well next year, she replied, "although the team will be losing many senior players, the returning players have gained much experience which should benefit the team."



MILLBURY

A Cold Warm-Up

According to Debbie Dempsey, a senior at M.H.S. who has run track for the past four years, the season was "serious but not so serious that they didn't have fun." She felt that each school Millbury played served as a good competitive test due to Millbury's lack of team participants. She also hopes there will be more interest exhibited from underclassmen in future years.

Though the team has had a poor record, there were some outstanding individual performances. Members such as Jim Boucher, Brian Lavallee, Marsha Bubon and Melissa Bubon all contributed 100%, according to Deb. She called attention to the extreme dedication of senior Lee Taft who never missed a practice or meet.

All in all, the most thrilling moments occurred at the State Track meet. It was an honor that brought everyone on the team together. Deb hopes that they can "make it that far" again.

A Season Of Consistent Performances

Pam Krumsiek, a member of the Girls' Spring Track team, recalled the highlights of the 1983 season by saying, "it was a time of hard work and long hours, but the result was alot of fun." Pam began by stating that the girls lost only twice; once to Grafton and once to Algonquin, a team not in the same league as Millbury.

Pam felt the team benefited a great deal from the efforts of freshmen Karen Hjort and Melissa Bubon, although the team needs little improvement overall. Because there is "always one person in any given event who is good, the Millbury girls have no one weak area." Versatile team members such as Lynda McInerney, Kim Ethier, and Deb Dempsey also contributed to the success of the team. "In the event that someone was absent from the meet, Lynda, Kim, or Deb could fill-in and do fairly well." Pam also named Lynda as the most dedicated player on the team.

Pam said she enjoyed playing on the team very much because of the great variety of events going on at the same time. However, she could not name any one meet as most thrilling due to the fact that "the season was one of consistency in competition."

Pam considers the season successful and points to the fact that the girls won every meet but two and placed second behind Grafton overall in the League Meet. Pam hopes the team will do as well next year but "only time will tell if the loss of this year's seniors will have an effect on the team."

Another Championship Season

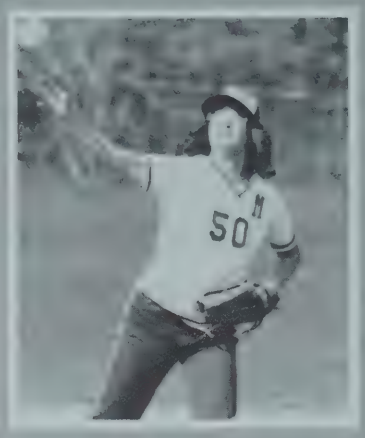
Millbury has proven itself time and time again that their track and field teams post a challenge to other teams in the Southern Worcester County League. However, in an interview with boys' spring track member Jim Kirkman, the lack of mental acuity is in stark contrast to the skills exhibited by the rest of the boys on the team. For example, when Jim was asked to recap the season in a few words he replied, "don't ask me these hard questions."

The team finished with an overall 14-1 record losing only to Auburn by four points. Jim decided that "Auburn was the 'tuffest' opponent since we lost to them." Jim felt that winning the S.W.C.L. Meet at West Boylston was the most thrilling moment of the season, "I ran my heart out for Melanie that day."

When Jim was asked to name the most dedicated player on the team, he said "the Gemme brothers because they came to every practice and meet." Jim added that besides the Gemme brothers, Jim Boucher, Tim Eckland, and David Lavallee contributed most to the success of the team.

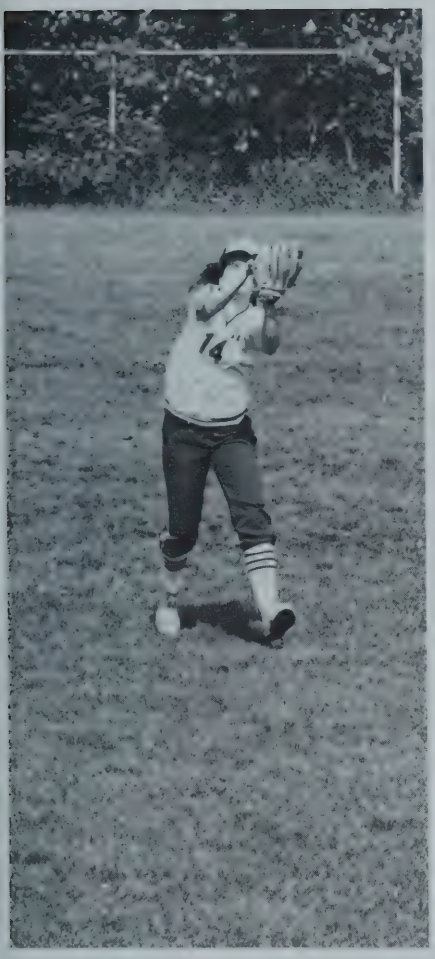
Jim hopes that the team next year will be equally successful and the experience gained this past year by the underclassmen will prove beneficial.

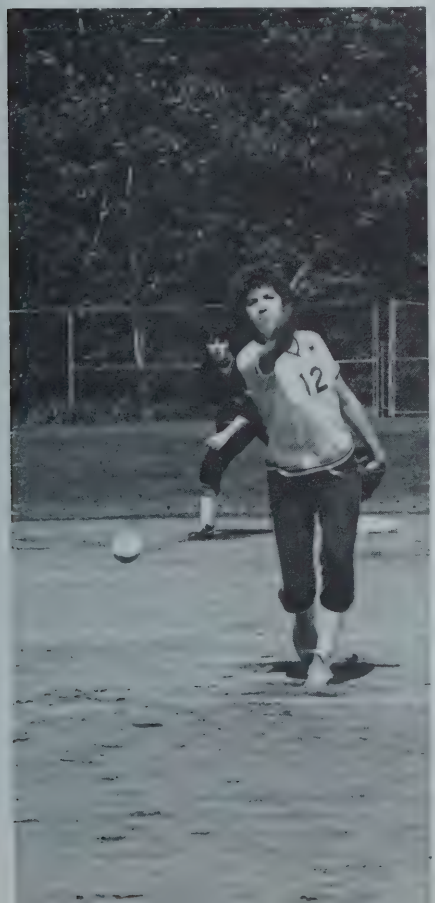
"Talent Was There, But . . ."

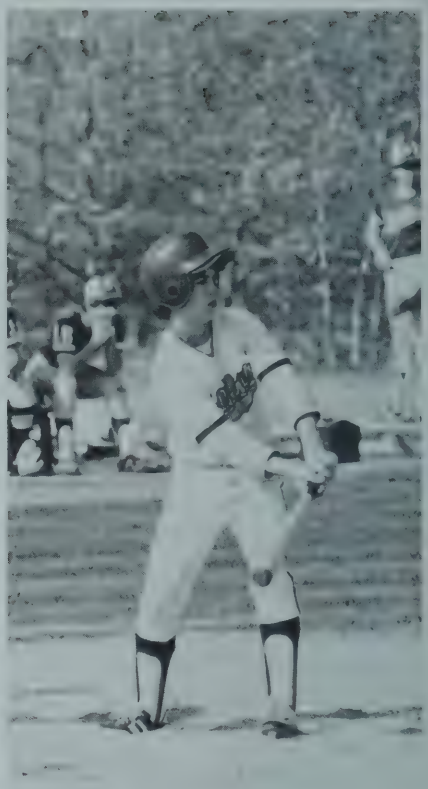


Bonnie Brady feels that the most thrilling moment of the season in softball this year was the team's first game. This game was held against Auburn and according to Bonnie, "everyone was ready to play and really excited about the season." But the season went downhill from there.

Bonnie called the season "very disappointing and discouraging." She said that the talent needed to have a successful team was there, but the players' attitudes toward playing as a team needed alot of improvement. She explained that there was never a full team effort. "They didn't work together. Instead they tried to improve their own personal performance rather than improving the entire team, and one person cannot win a softball game." Bonnie finished by saying, "the talent was there, but it's full potential was never reached."







Working Together

Jim Brunelle summed up the Varsity Baseball's successful season by saying the team "worked together and gave an all out effort." At first it appeared that the team would be weak in the area of pitching. However, starting pitchers Brian Blanchard and Brian Kupstas and relief pitchers Mark Higginbottom and Pete Langlais adequately filled the gap.

Jim thought that Auburn and Oxford were the team's toughest opponents, but with the "great coaching of Bob Austin," the players worked together and won the league title.

Jim thought the most dedicated player was Jeff Pappas. He also singled out Chuck Burke and Mike Hagan as contributing a great deal to the victorious season. "The most thrilling moment of the season was beating West Boylston in the 12th inning by one run."

Jim said losing so many seniors would have a detrimental effect on the chances of next year's team. He believed inexperience would be the biggest obstacle they'd have to overcome. "There will be too many vacant positions."

He added that he highly enjoyed playing for Coach Austin and hoped the players left behind will maintain Millbury's reputation.

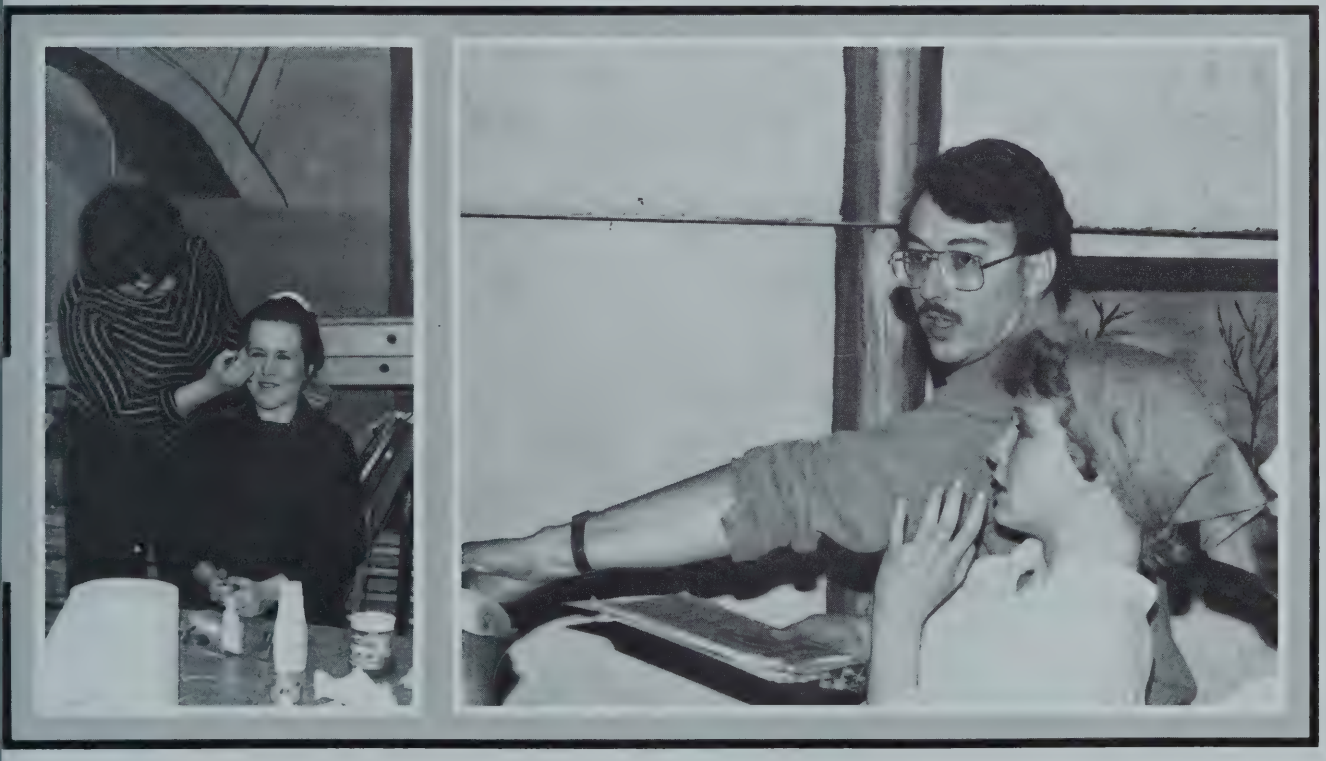
FIDDLER

When one thinks of drama, a thought quickly enters one's mind of comedy and tragedy. The Drama Club of this year re-emphasized this thought by putting on stage its fourth consecutive musical, "Fiddler on the Roof." The production brought both tears and smiles to all. The star of the play was Matthew Cadorette who should be applauded for his outstanding performance.

The Drama Club consists of about sixty people, who all played a role in the club's efforts. The club is under the direction of Mr. Roger Desrosiers who did an outstanding job in organizing the Drama Club. This years officers were Matthew Cadorette, President; Donna Denoncourt, Vice-President; Debbie Campbell, Secretary; and Kristen Hoel, Treasurer.

Behind The Scenes



An Evening In Honorable Company

The year began with some substantial changes in the National Honor Society at Millbury High School. First of all, the Society was under the direction fo a new advisor, Miss Rossi. Secondly, new officers were selected. Kim Ethier was elected President, Sue Modig, Vice-President; Lisa Nichols, Secretary; and Debbie Campbell, Treasurer.

The National Honor Society progressed quickly and soon organized a few activities for the upcoming year. The first order of business was a tutoring service which would permit Honor Society members to help students who were having difficulties in specific courses of study. Another organized function was the blood drive, held on November 29, 1982. Valentine's Day brought with it yet another activity run by the Honor

National Honor Society Induction

Society: selling carnations.

Approaching the end of the second quarter of the 1982-1983 school year, it was time to choose new Honor Society members. At about this same time, the Honor Society advisorship changed hands from Miss Rossi to Mrs. Dupont. The annual induction ceremony was organized and on April 15, 1983, nineteen new members were inducted into the National Honor Society.

With a fresh supply of eager members, in cooperation with the old dedicated members, the National Honor Society scheduled another blood drive for May 6, 1983, which finalized the activities of the year.

"Moonlight And Roses"

On Friday, May 13, the class of 1984 held their prom at Maironis Park in Shrewsbury. The band hired for the evening, Crosswinds, played the prom song, "Thank-you", originally by Led Zeppelin.

The main decoration was the chandelier above the dance floor and there was a single rose on each table to fulfill the theme, "Moonlight and Roses."

This year's queen was Sherry Conger. The members of her court were: Renee Chevalier, Marie Cooney, Wendy Cooper, Lori Hayes, and Beth Smichinski. The Junior Prom was a success greatly due to the hard work of Mrs. Saucier, the class advisor, along with Donna Walsh and the prom committee.

Life has many various paths which we may choose to follow. These paths will offer a vast collection of puzzle pieces which will be added to our individual puzzles.

We are all different people. Some puzzles will eventually be completed, some will remain a jumble, and some will be missing only one piece. Some pieces will bring joy and some will bring sadness, but all of the pieces are vital and necessary. A puzzle is not complete until all of the pieces are securely in place. Some will reach this desired destiny; others will partially complete their puzzles.

At this point in our lives, our puzzles are by no means complete. There are many pieces still missing. Soon, everyone will go his or her separate way and we will part as a class. Some will achieve and some will fail. These are the chances we have to take. They are all a part of the unpredictable and jumbled puzzle we call life.

Each member of the Class of 1983 has touched each other. This may be prominent in some, yet subtle in others; but, it can be found in everyone. We have shared good times and bad times. As the final piece of high school is inserted into our puzzles, we must all move on: for after June 5, 1983, the Millbury High School Class of '83 became nothing but a fond memory. We must not live in the past. The future awaits us with open arms, and we will attack it until each and every piece of our personal puzzles has been securely rooted in place.
